SUPERVISOR COMMENTS

Officers were busy once again. TPD received several calls for a loud concert at the Fairgrounds. Many of the neighboring residences called to complain that the music was extra loud. We were able to finally contact the concert promoter, who was able to correct the problem and lower the volume. Officers also contacted a female at a local park. She was showing signs of being under the influence of methamphetamines. She was arrested and taken to jail due to her intoxication. Officers also investigated a damaged property that stemmed from the victim being in a relationship with the suspect's ex-girlfriend. The suspect decided to break a large window to the victim's house and then make threats through text messages.
